EDI and Payerpath Make It Easy to Submit Claims

Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) is the process of submitting claims electronically. The many benefits of EDI include faster reimbursement and immediate error identification.

First Health Services makes the process easy and affordable by offering to providers a free electronic claims submission service through Payerpath.

A representative from Payerpath may call you to tell you about the benefits of using Payerpath and to answer your questions.

You may learn about Payerpath on First Health Services' website at <https://medicaid.nv.gov> by selecting the "Provider" tab, then "Electronic Claims/EDI."

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Internet Explorer browser window displaying the Nevada Medicaid website. The address bar shows <https://nevada.fhsc.com/>. The website header includes the Nevada Medicaid logo and the First Health Services Corporation logo. A navigation menu is visible with the following items: Home, Providers, Pharmacy, Quick Links, Search, and Contact Us. A dropdown menu is open under the 'Providers' tab, listing several options: Announcements / Newsletters, Billing Manuals, Electronic Claims / EDI (highlighted with a purple arrow), EVS Logon, EVS User Manual, Forms, Prior Authorization, Provider Training, and Recycled Claims. The main content area features a 'Welcome!' message and a 'Web Announcements' section.
