Physician-Administered Drug Claim Rejections

Physician-Administered Drug (PAD) claims were found to be incorrectly rejecting for duplicate claim when a claim for the same recipient from the same provider for the same medication was submitted on consecutive days. This issue was corrected effective February 14, 2014. Claims submitted prior to this date will be reprocessed to reimburse providers for consecutive day administration of medications. The adjudication of any reprocessed claims will be reflected on a future remittance advice.
